During this time, he began to seriously discern a priestly vocation, and he applied to be a seminarian for the Archdiocese of New York.

Bishop Bonnici began his theological studies later that year at the Pontifical North American College in Rome, with academic studies at the Pontifical Gregorian University, where he earned his Bachelor of Sacred Theology in 1990. In 1994, Bishop Bonnici was assigned to continue his education at the Pontifical John Paul II Institute in Washington, DC, where he earned the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology in 1995.

His education and pastoral experiences enabled him to author Person to Person: Friendship and Love in the Life and Theology of Hans Urs Von Balthasar, and, together with Monsignor Joseph Giandurco, he co-authored Partners in Life and Love: A Preparation Handbook for the Celebration of Catholic Marriage.

New York Governor George Pataki appointed Bonnici to a seven-year term on the board of trustees of the City University of New York in April 2002.
